METEOROLOGICAL TABLE, prepared and corrected by W. J. SAVAGE, Jeweler, 33 South High street.

THANKS.—Hon. S. Shellbarger has our thanks for valuable public documents.

IN TOWN.—Col. Sam. Pike, of the Illinois Gazette, was in the city yesterday.

CONFIRMED.—James Rowe, of Chillicothe, has been confirmed as Receiver of Public Money.

IN THE CITY.—Samuel Grimshaw, Auditor of Monroe, is in the city, in attendance on the Convention of Auditors. He reports Monroe all right.

MOVABLE FEASTS AND FASTS.—Palm Sunday occurs on April 14th; Good Friday, April 15th; Easter Sunday, April 16th; Ascension Day, May 30th; Whit Sunday, June 16th.

WITHDRAWN.—William Kelsey, the nominee for Council from the Third Ward, has withdrawn from the canvass. He will see that, as far as he is concerned, we have obliged him.

TO PRESERVE FACT TREES.—It is said that a hole bored in the body of a fruit tree and filled with sulphur, will so infect the tree that no insects or worms can live upon it. As the spring season advances, our fruit growers will do well to try the experiment.

INTERESTING EXPERIMENT.—Feed a rooster on popcorn, and then give him warm and highly spiced meat. The internal heat will pop the corn, until the expansion explodes the rooster, with a loud detonation, similar to a pistol shot. Bluejay reports having successfully tried the experiment.

ARRIVALS AT THE PENITENTIARY.—The following are the arrivals at the Ohio Penitentiary for yesterday: From Stark county, James McGrath, standing promissory note and receipt, two years; Joseph Belmont, burglary, two years; Emanuel Miller, uttering forged order, seven years.

DR. TUCKER.—This gentleman has visited Columbus regularly for some years, treating Chronic Diseases, stopping over on two days each visit. But his patients have so increased that he finds it necessary to make an extra visit of two days to accommodate his patients. See advertisement in our columns.

THE PUBLISHERS' CONVENTION.—The Publishers' Convention, of the Ohio Press, set for the 1st of April, to the 18th, and then in addition to the paper question, action taken in regard to advancing the prices of subscription, advertising and job work, etc. What say you, gentlemen of the Ohio press? As many of you as are in favor of postponement say "aye!"

FR. BRUNET.—If Bro. Busby will produce any evidence to show that our name was in nomination for "delegate" either of full rank or by brevet, or that we got tickets printed for use at the primary meeting on Friday night, we asked any one to vote for us as "delegates" either of full rank or by brevet, we will acknowledge that he never told a fib. Until then we must excuse us only to consider him a G. Washington "by brevet."

GRANDVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE.—From the correspondence of a friend who attended the Beechoven and Mozart Soiree at Grandville College, we learn that it was one of the most successful musical entertainments ever given in Ohio. But this is not to be wondered at, for there is an abundance of musical talent amongst the young lady pupils there, and their teacher, Prof. C. L. Streiminger, is a most accomplished and thorough one. We will be pleased to hear from our correspondent at any time on subjects of general interest.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' MEETING.—At a meeting of the County Commissioners held March 18, Messrs. Koerner and Barbee being present, bills of N. Cole, for indexing record, $50; J. G. Smith, food for Court House, $5; George Simpson, moving coal, $5, were allowed. At a meeting held March 19, the bill of Geo. Simpson, for cutting wood for Court House, for $2, was allowed. Also, Peter Schart, for iron work in the Court House and jail, in full of contract, $1,117.00, was allowed, and Auditor ordered to draw his warrant on the Treasurer for the above amounts.

SUSPICIOUS.—Straying into the Probate Court room, on yesterday afternoon, we found it full of County Auditors, debating questions of lively interest, apparently, to them. Where they came from, how long they are going to stay, or what they design doing, "nobody knows and nobody cares." The Journal local—the new one, we mean—on a dead rush for an item, got in there, but was soon made to understand that it was unnecessary for him to break a hole in the circumstance, and retire, which he did with his usual ability. With the outness of an older hand, we engaged one of them in a conversation long enough to ascertain that there were about thirty County Auditors present.

FOLIO COURT.—There was no great amount of business before the Mayor yesterday. Neither plain nor ornamental drunk was there. We missed the old familiar faces of those who filled the places, held by rummies, near the railing, while their bloated heads were all as they leaned them against the wall that's nearest to the door, while the watery eye and blood-shot, seeks a worn spot in the carpet spread upon the floor, only this and nothing more.

THE ONLY CASES WERE THOSE OF Patrick Murphy and Patrick Flynn, charged with petty larceny, in stealing an album from the store of G. W. Gleason, 1000 Ohio Street. They were both found guilty. Mayor Beck was about passing sentence upon them, that they wouldn't stay in the calaboose over night, and in order to give them a greater field to operate in, his Honor sentenced them to thirty days in the county jail. If they get out of that cage before their time is up, we'll lose our guess.

BOOK NOTICES.

FRANK LEBEL'S LADY'S MAGAZINE, April, 1897. Mr. Frank Lebel, of New York, is a great favorite of fashion for April. As a strictly magazine of fashions, Lebel is using every endeavor to distance all competitors. This number contains a magnificent double-page colored fashion plate, a double-page plain fashion plate, and some fifty or sixty smaller ones. Besides, there is a full-sized pattern for cutting the new, most stylish and fashionable jacket yet invented, and named "A la Militaire." It is a most desirable book for the ladies, and should be read with encouragement from them. Sellock & Co., corner of Town and High streets, have it for sale.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, April, 1897. L. A. Godey, Philadelphia. Andrews & Hull, next door south of the Postoffice, have laid on our table the April number of this Queen of the monthlies. As usual, it presents a most choice and varied selection of articles, written by some of the most talented of our American women. The illustrations are fine, even for Godey, who never gives an ordinary plate. "In the Woods," is a most delightful little sketch on steel. "The Hoop Mania," is very funny, and is a handsome woodcut. There is also the usual number of fashion plates and designs, which have made Godey's the ladies' magazine of the world.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE, April, 1897. Harper & Brothers, New York. From Andrews & Hull, also, we have Harper for April. Its table of contents is as rich and racy as ever. The Dodge Club continue their travels in Italy, and their historian describes with infinite humor their adventures in the country. The other stories are full of interest, and the Editor's Drawer is filled with as many complications as usual.

HALY-YEARLY ABSTRACT OF THE MEDICAL SCIENCES, Vol. XLIV. Philadelphia: Henry C. Lea. We have received from the publishers the last half-yearly number—from July to December—of this truly valuable publication. To physicians it recommends itself in a high degree for its clear terse style of presenting cases and new discoveries in the science of medicine. The number before us contains: Part I. Practical Medicine, Pathology and Therapeutics. Part 2. Surgery. Part 3. Midwifery. Part 4. Materia Medica and Therapeutics. There are also several reviews, bibliographical notices, etc. It is neatly printed, and while of greatest service to the student or practitioner of medicine, it is also of much value and interest to the general reader.

SELLOCK & CO. have our thanks for the April numbers of Godey's Lady's Book and Harper's Magazine. Having above noted their contents, and spoken in terms of unqualified commendation of the excellencies of these numbers, we can only refer our readers to Sellock & Co.'s, corner of Town and High streets, for further information.

THE CHILDREN'S HOUR, A Magazine for the Little Ones, April, 1897. Philadelphia: T. S. Arthur & Son, 805 and 811 Chestnut street.

The April number of this charming magazine for boys and girls is on our table, looking clearer and handsomer than ever. It is a most interesting and valuable work, rich with choice stories for the children, from the pens of such writers as Mary L. Clark, Jennie Gage, Virginia F. Townsend, Jennie Gage, T. S. Arthur, Ada M. Kennicott, Mrs. M. O. Johnson, Olive Thomas, and others of equal merit. It costs but $1.25 per annum, and should be in the hands of every child old enough to know good from evil.

FRANKLIN COUNTY CENTRAL DEMOCRATIC CLUB.—There was a good attendance at the Club meeting last night. President Bingham introduced Hon. John Follett, of Licking county, who addressed the Club in a masterly speech. We are to-day, he said, fighting the same battle Madison, Jackson, Monroe and Jackson fought Centralization of the one hand, and the opposition always shown by the Democracy to the centralization schemes of its opposers, and urged a thorough organization of the Democratic party as the only means of rescuing the country from impending ruin. It was a strong speech, and at its close, on motion of John G. Thompson, the thanks of the Club were returned to Mr. Follett.

Judge Thurman was called, and enumerated some of the benefits resulting from the Club's meetings, and in a few moments' speech exposed the demerits of the Radicals to override all constitutional barriers to accomplish their nefarious schemes, citing the action of the Senate in the case of Governor Thomas, of Maryland, as a sample of what they intend as a means of preserving their majority. There was great interest felt in the Judge's speech, and at its conclusion, the Club adjourned to meet on the first Tuesday in April.

THE SALE OF PAINTINGS TO-MORROW.—Taking a quiet stroll yesterday morning, we dropped into the store No. 1 Gwynne block, corner of Town and Third streets, and took a good look at the pictures there on exhibition and to be sold at auction, commencing to-morrow afternoon at seven o'clock, on at 7, and continuing during the week. The wine and study by Pluagan of Dusseldorf, and another, the Wine House in Holland, by Teniers, are two rare sketches, full of life and humor, and painted with freedom and fidelity. Two pictures by L. M. Spencer, Reading the Love Letter and The Answer, are sprightly, well executed works, and attract a good deal of attention. Three studies, by Walther, The Evident Meal, Near Caught and Three Friends, are charming; the positions of the boys in the two latter are true to life and very suggestive. But the finest of the collection is numbered 85 on the catalogue, and is entitled The Wauling Year, by P. W. Hume. It is a bit of English scenery in the fall of the year. In the center foreground stands a huge oak tree, on the leaves of which the sunshine falls aslant, giving the frost-tinted foliage a look of vivid beauty. But to go this morning and see the collection for yourselves. Lovers and judges of art, and the ladies particularly, are invited to call.

THE FLYER STEAM GENERATOR.—On the invitation of the inventor, we paid a visit to the Columbus Machine Works yesterday to examine a new tubular boiler called the "Flyer," which is a most valuable addition to this invention is to produce a forced and perfect circulation of the water in steam boilers and obtain a more rapid and complete evaporation, and a sure and effectual protection for the boiler plates, tubes and metal interspersed between the fire and water.

The nature of the improvement consists in producing a rapid circulation of the water in Steam Generators by means of connected tubes of different diameters, of larger with an inner or false water back, together with a series of smaller tubes, the latter tubes serve as feeders for the smaller tubes, in which latter the water is rapidly converted into steam, and the steam conducted directly into the steam space above the water level.

Among its advantages are the cheapness of its construction, the facility with which it can be cleaned and repaired, and its great saving of fuel. It is claimed that it will generate more steam with 50 per cent less fuel than any other boiler now in use. We advise those interested in these matters to call on Messrs. Foley & Emery, of the Columbus Machine Works, in Franklin street, and see the boiler for themselves.

CONDITION OF THE COUNTY TREASURY.

Balances to the credit of the different funds in the Treasury of Franklin county, on the 1st day of March, 1897, as shown by the County Auditor's books:
